Market inches lower

The VN-Index declined for a third consecutive day on Friday, down 0.2%, or 3.1 points, to 1,280.8 points. The HNX-Index also fell today, down 0.2% to close at 2,450. After rising Monday and Tuesday, the VN-Index lost 0.2% for the week. The HNX-Index had a stronger week, gaining 1.1%.

Most sectors in today's trading session closed in negative territory, except for Chemicals (+1.3%), Technology (+0.3%), Oil & Gas (+0.4%) and Travel & Leisure (+0.2%), led by GVR (+2.6%), FPT (+0.6%), BSR (+1.7%) and VJC (+1.0%).

GVR contributed 0.9 points to VN-Index as GVR enterprises expect total rubber processing capacity to reach 200,000 tons of rubber/year in the context of a global shortage of 1.24 million tons of rubber in 2024.

The banking sector (-0.6%) fell today along with financial services (-0.8%), led by HDB (-0.6%), VCB (-0.6%) and SSI (-1.0%).

Real estate stocks (-0.02%) closed down slightly despite gains by Vingroup stocks. VIC (+1.6%) was among the top stocks in the market thanks to Vinfast shares increasing 17.5% in July 11 trading after news that the EV enterprise is seeking a loan of about USD250mn from Indonesian banks to build an assembly plant in Subang.

After breaking a streak of 25 straight sessions of foreign net selling yesterday, foreigners net sold again today, for a total value of VND767bn (USD30mn), focusing on VHM (VND304bn, USD12mn), MWG (VND124bn, USD5mn) and MSN (VND79bn, USD3mn). On the contrary, TPB (VND42bn, USD2mn), DGC (VND27bn, USD1mn) and PLX (VND26bn, USD1mn) were the top stocks net bought

Weaker-than-expected US June CPI bolsters September rate cut probability

US inflation fell 0.1% MoM in June following a month of flat prices, defying forecasts of a slight increase of 0.1%. Over the past year, CPI rose slower than expected at 3.0%, a slight decrease from May's 3.3% YoY increase. The main driver behind the drops in prices was a significant decrease in gasoline costs, which fell for a second month in a row, dropping by 3.8% in June. Core inflation, which excludes volatile food and energy prices, remained steady at 0.1% MoM, fueled mainly by shelter and motor vehicle insurance.

Following the lower-than-anticipated inflation data, optimism that the Fed will cut rates in September has surged. Investors are now overwhelmingly confident (89% according to CME Group's Fed Watch tool) that at least one rate cut will occur this year, with the first in September, a significant jump from 73% just a day earlier and 50% a week ago. The DXY also eased 0.68% DoD to sit at 104.274. To recall, the US labor market has also shown signs of cooling recently, with the unemployment rate rising for three consecutive months to 4.1% in June. This, combined with the CPI falling in June, suggests positive preliminary signs for a stronger VND, as a weaker USD could alleviate foreign exchange pressure on the VND.

Strategy note

Navigating 2H24 – Manufacturing propels growth

Equity Market: Ready to build on a strong first half

Vietnam far outperformed regional peers: The VN-Index increased a respectable 10.2% (in local currency) during 1H24. It considerably outperformed the Bangkok SET (-8%), Jakarta JCI (-3%) and Philippine PCOMP (-1%) indices.

Gains were widespread: 90 of the nearly 400 stocks in the VN-Index rose more than 20% during the half. The simple average of the gains was 9.1% and the median gain was 6.0%.

FX concerns dragged on the market: Foreign investors net sold USD2bn during 1H24 due largely to FX concerns. They net-sold every month as they watched the VND devalue ~5% vs the USD during Q1. Their strongest net selling came in June (USD600mn), after the currency had already stabilized. The Index had peaked at +13.6% YTD during Q1 before the SBV sold USD6bn of foreign reserves, which supported the currency but reduced liquidity in the economy.

Nearly every sector gained: 20 of the 22 sectors gained. Travel & Leisure (+93%), was the strongest performer as tourism recovered. Vietnam Airlines (HVN) recorded the largest gain of any stock, rising 171% after nearly being delisted last year. Technology (+53%) was the second strongest performer amid multiple news headlines about FDI into Vietnam's tech sector. Banks, which make up 38% of the VN-Index, rose a more modest 11%.

We target 1,330 – 1,350: Our base case forecast is for the VN-Index to close 2024 with a ~19% gain at 1,330 – 1,350 at a 14.2x P/E ratio. This forecast is based on the parameters that the US Fed cuts one time during 2H24 which pushes the DXY index below 102. Domestically, our market forecast is based on exports growing 10-12% and credit growing 14%, which would support EPS to grow 18% for the year. Furthermore, we expect continuing Fed cuts and recovering global economic growth to push the VN-Index to 1,580 – 1,600 by the end of 2025.

Bottom-up sector picks: Residential real estate has the highest simple-average upside to target price (+38.7%) of any sector in our coverage list after underperforming in 1H24. We believe the new Land Laws coming into effect in August will be a major catalyst. This will also boost steel stocks (+35.1% upside to TP) which are already benefitting from strong exports. Strong property development and strong FDI will also support banks (+19.5% average upside to TP) to reach their credit growth targets. Furthermore the bank sector average P/B of 1.7x does not seem to have fully priced in the resulting returns on equity.

Business Description

HDG was founded in 1990 as a construction firm under the Ministry of Defense. It specializes in real estate development and construction. With a focus on Hanoi and HCMC, their portfolio encompasses diverse projects such as villas, townhouses, offices, and hotels. Beyond real estate, HDG has actively pursued power generation, specializing in cost-effective development of small hydropower plants while also venturing into solar and wind power.

Update report

HA DO JSC (HDG)

HDG - Hydropower boom on the horizon - ADD

- We downgrade HDG to HOLD from ADD with a 12.3% upside and a 1.6% dividend yield. We increase our TP by 5.8% while the share price has surged by 19.8% since our last report.
- Our higher TP is driven by an upward revision of FY24-25 EPS and slightly lower WACC assumption.
- TTM P/E of 18.3x is below the peer average of 40.3x, and has partly reflected our FY24 net profit growth forecast for 67.8%.

Financial Highlights

- > 1Q24 net profit slumped 26.9% YoY to VND221bn (USD8.7mn) due to weak hydropower results.
- ➤ We forecast net profit to grow 67.8%/13.3% YoY in FY24-25, respectively, mainly driven by the launch of Charm Villas phase 3 and the recovery of the hydropower segment.

Investment Thesis

Launch of Charm Villas phase 3 to drive FY24-25 earnings

The launch of the final phase of Charm Villas was pushed back due to unfavorable market conditions in 2022-23 to capture potentially higher selling prices as the property market recovers. We expect HDG to launch and hand-over remaining Charm Villas units during 2H24-2025, supporting property revenue to jump 314% in FY24 to VND1.17tr (USD46.1mn) and 4.8% in FY25 to VND1.23tn (USD48.3mn).

La Nina's return triggers hydropower recovery in 2H24-25

We expect the return of La Nina in 2H24 to be a key driver for hydropower growth in FY24-25. We forecast FY24-25 hydropower revenue to rise 5.2%/8.7% to VND1.4tr (USD55mn)/VND1.5tr (USD60mn). Although we expect the La Niña transition in 2H24 to boost FY24-25 hydropower output (+6.7%/7.6% YoY), lower ASPs due to a higher Qc ratio (limiting market sales) might cause a 5% YoY decrease in FY24 ASP for hydropower plants participating in CGM (Song Tranh 4, Dak Mi 2).

Solar farm still faces regulatory hurdles

Government inspections revealed challenges for Hong Phong 4 solar farm. Hong Phong 4 faces potential selling price adjustments due to being built on mineral reserve land. While the farm remains operational currently, we recommend close monitoring of developments to fully assess the potential impact.

Strong financials, but land bank conversion is key to property growth

HDG has no long-term debt other than loans financing its power plants. The company even managed to reduce the interest spread on several major loans, further improving financial health. This strong balance sheet, along with their sizeable land bank in major cities, positions HDG for long-term growth. Once regulatory hurdles are addressed to convert the use of its land bank from manufacturing to residential, the land presents a compelling development opportunity.
