Banks, telecom lead strong afternoon rally

Trading activity dropped sharply this morning as investors awaited developments from derivatives contract expiration in the afternoon. The sudden drop in trading activity was not due to cash flow issues but rather a temporary slowdown in investor activity.

The VN-Index was little changed during the morning session but showed a strong upward trend in the afternoon to close with a gain of 1.0% to 1,228.3. Total trading value decreased sharply by 30.9% compared to Wednesday to VND10.5tn (USD413.1mn). The HNX-Index increased 0.2% to 221.7.

Sectors that gained today included Banks (+1.1%), Real Estate (+0.3%), Financial Services (+1.1%), Chemicals (+1.3%) and Telecommunications (+4.9%). In contrast, sectors such as Food & Beverage (-0.5%) and Media (-0.3%) declined.

Top performers today included CTG (+2.9%), VPB (+2.7%), MWG (+3.6%) and TCB (+1.5%). Top laggards included SAB (-0.4%) and BCM (-0.3%).

Most bank stocks rose, including CTG (+2.9%), VPB (+2.7%), and STB (+2.0%). We attribute the upward momentum to expectations that the asset risk of banks remained stable during 9M24, thanks to limited lending exposure to areas affected by Typhoon Yagi. We believe bank valuations have returned to attractive levels, with improved asset quality. The legal issues surrounding the Aqua City project have been resolved, alleviating investor concerns about NVL's debt situation. Additionally, the impact of Typhoon Yagi has so far only been partially reflected in the Q3 financial results, creating a misaligned expectation among investors.

Viettel stocks, including VTP (+6.9%), CTR (+2.7%), VGI (+7.1%) and VTK (+5.5%), were outstanding performers today. VTP has gained 59% since October 4 amid expectations that it will launch a logistics park in Lang Son at the beginning of December 2024, aiming to promote the development of cross-border e-commerce and smart border gates. Moreover, at the 5G ORAN Vietnam Connect 2024 event, Viettel announced the large-scale commercial deployment of 5G Open RAN base stations that are "Make in Vietnam, Made by Viettel."

Foreign investors net sold today VND2.3tn (USD90.5mn), focusing on VHM (VND622.2bn, USD24.5mn), FPT (VND189bn, USD7.4mn), and MWG (VND144.6bn, USD5.7mn). In contrast, buying momentum was on FPT (VND217.6bn, USD8.6mn), TCB (VND101.1bn, USD4.0mn), and VPB (VND95.8bn, USD3.8mn).

Macro noteA new era of cooperation for Vietnam and Malaysia following the General Secretary's visit

Vietnam and Malaysia have elevated their bilateral relationship to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership during General Secretary To Lam's official visit to Malaysia. Both countries have committed to strengthening cooperation in various fields, including security, defense, maritime affairs, energy, and the digital economy. To bolster economic ties, the two nations aim to increase bilateral trade to at least USD18bn, focusing on balanced and mutually beneficial trade.

In addition to traditional areas of cooperation, both countries will expand collaboration in emerging fields such as green economy, innovation, science and technology, and digital transformation. To solidify this partnership, Vietnam and Malaysia also signed two key agreements: a Memorandum of Understanding on trade promotion cooperation and a Memorandum of Understanding on renewable energy cooperation between PetroVietnam and Petronas.

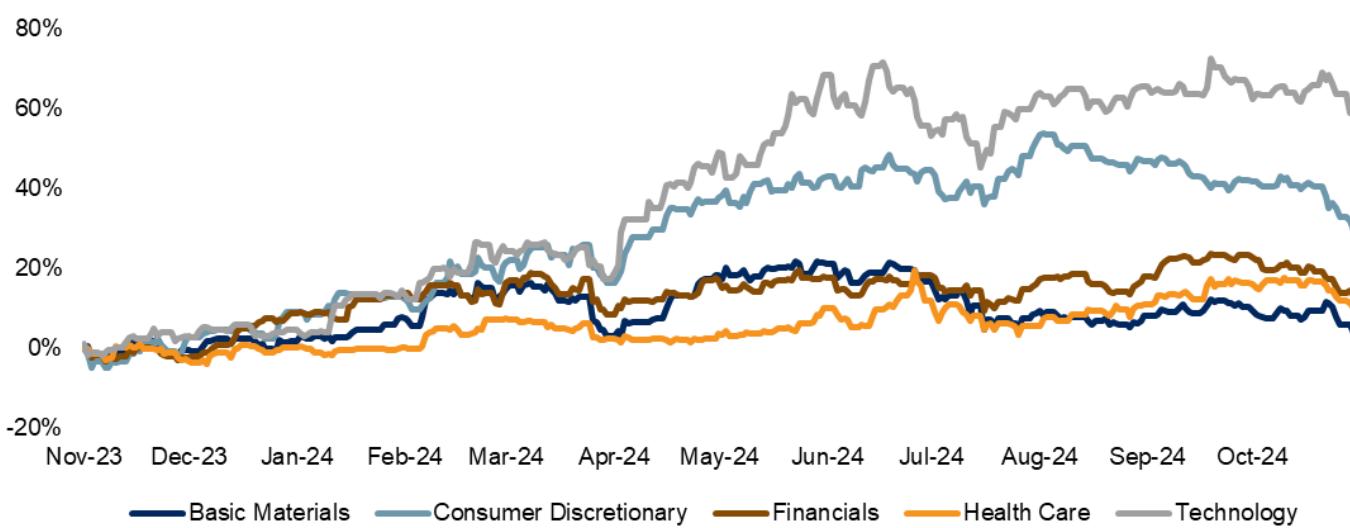

With that, Vietnam has established comprehensive strategic partnerships with nine countries: China (2008), Russia (2012), India (2016), South Korea (2022), the US (September 2023), Japan (November 2023), Australia (March 2024), France (October 2024), and Malaysia. We believe the elevation of the Vietnam-Malaysia relationship to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership holds significant potential benefits for Vietnam. Increased trade, investment, and cooperation between the two countries can contribute to economic growth and development. Moreover, this strategic partnership can enhance Vietnam's diplomatic standing and bolster its position in the face of growing geopolitical uncertainties.

Update report

CTG - A low-risk investment amid uncertainties – ADD

- We maintain our ADD rating with 17.4% upside. We maintain our TP at VND39,900 while the share price has increased by 2% since our last report.
- Our TP reflects reductions in our risk-free rate assumption.
- CTG's 1.3x current P/B is slightly above the sector P/B of 1.2x. We think the current P/B is fair as the price reflects strong 3Q24 financial results.

Financial Highlights

- 3Q24 consolidated PBT increased 34.5% YoY driven by strong growth in NII and skyrocketing Non-II.
- 9M24 net profit rose 12.1% YoY, fulfilling 70% of our forecast thanks to CTG's effective cost-cutting strategies.
- We forecast ROE to fall to 16.8% for FY24 amid rising bad debt and weak retail demand recovery but recover to 17.0%/18.1% for FY25/26.

Investment Thesis

Corporate, FDI and retail lending recovery will fuel credit growth

We project 12% FY24 credit growth, led by corporates, FDI clients and individuals. By end-3Q24, credit growth reached 9% YTD, and we expect continuing demand from corporates and FDI inflows in 4Q24 to sustain this momentum. Retail lending also recorded strong credit growth in 3Q24, and we expect it to further support CTG's credit growth going forward.

NIM will slightly widen thanks to rising CASA

We expect CTG's NIM to rise from 2.89% in 3Q24 to 2.92% by end-2024, supported by an increase in the CASA ratio. Although both asset yield and COF are expected to grow, COF will increase at a slower rate due to the higher CASA ratio. We project the CASA ratio to rise to 24% by end-2024, from 22.8% in 3Q24, as increasing credit disbursement will boost non-term deposits.

Bad debt collection will support Non-II growth

We forecast FY24 Non-II to grow 17.5% YoY mainly driven by a 50% YoY increase in net other income as CTG will accelerate bad debt collection. 9M24 recovery from written-off bad debt rose by 86.3% YoY thanks to a large bad debt collection from a client. We expect recovery from managing loan collateral to grow further, especially real estate collateral following implementation of the new Land Law.

Asset quality will continue to improve despite post-Yagi impact

3Q24 NPL ratio fell to 1.45% (-12bps QoQ) and NPL formation fell by 97.6% QoQ. We expect the NPL ratio to continue falling to 1.39% in 4Q24, driven by economic recovery and increasing write-offs. We forecast CTG to maintain a high write-off ratio to manage bad debts, particularly amid Typhoon Yagi's impact as CTG raised specific provisions by 22.1% QoQ despite a decline in the 3Q24 write-off rate. We expect the FY24 LLR ratio to reach 163%, up from 151% in FY23, with further bad debt collection under the new Land Law.
